

DEAD TO WRITES

A MALICE IN MEMPHIS NEWSLETTER

JANUARY 2016 ISSUE

Happy New Year!

The month of January 2016 ONLY, Malice will meet the third Saturday, January 16th, same time, same place, just a different date. The library already had the second Saturday of January booked, so for this month only, we will meet the third Saturday. The schedule resumes to second Saturday in February and thereafter.

That's right, Malice meets January 16 this month at 10 am.

I will be presenting my program on 'The Villainous Antagonist' and hope everyone will be present. I'll explain how to truly create a proper villain who will make the skin crawl, chill the reader, challenge the hero, and give excitement and depth to your story.

Hope to see everyone Saturday, January 16th at 10am!

Kristi Bradley
VP Malice in Memphis

Don't forget to pay your dues this month. $24.00 for the year.

WRITING TIP:

Writing is never easy. When critiquing someone else work be sure to make your criticisms gentle. A critique partner that intentionally upsets another writer is not worth keeping.

Keep writing.

Barbara Christopher

Some of my Writing resources that everybody should check out

Creative Writing Now

<http://www.creative-writing-now.com>

Writer's Forensics Blog by D.P. Lyle, M.D.

<https://writersforensicsblog.wordpress.com/>

<http://www.dplylemd.com/>

By Martha Alderson – Writer of the Plot Whisperer Blog and other great sites to research when you are writing.

<http://marthaalderson.com/>

<http://plotwhisperer.blogspot.com/>